

Antisocial Behaviour Crackdown

If you are affected by antisocial behaviour where you live it can feel like there is no escape and no one can help solve the problem. Antisocial behaviour can affect anyone at anytime and ranges from noisy neighbours to vandalism and street drinking to damage to your car or home. Whatever type of antisocial behaviour you are experiencing there is no need to live with it. Every area in Strathclyde has a dedicated community policing team that has specialist local knowledge and works closely with partners in your community to help resolve antisocial behaviour issues

Over the summer when the nights are lighter and the weather is better, antisocial behaviour incidents traditionally rise. During this time Strathclyde Police will be concentrating on tackling antisocial behaviour, preventing it escalating into more serious crime.

“Antisocial behaviour causes alarm and annoyance to many people in our communities. This is unacceptable and while we are making real progress in tackling the issue we can do more if we have your help. We're strengthening our efforts over the next four weeks with a dedicated campaign to encourage people to claim their communities back from the trouble makers, creating safer and better places for us all to live.

Our Community Policing Teams are working closely with local people and partner agencies right across the Force so it's vital that you tell us where and when antisocial behaviour is happening so that we can proactively target offenders.

If you have information about anti social behaviour in your area - let us know. If you are nervous about police turning up at your door we don't need to visit, you can contact us by e mail or telephone“ Sergeant Gavin Russell

Don't accept antisocial behaviour. Stand up for your community.
